

Podington Cricket Club from Northamptonshire are visiting Norfolk this weekend for an amazing 50th consecutive cricket tour. Starting back in 1959, it will be the 50th meeting between Podington and Garboldisham on Bank Holiday Monday. A large party of tourists are expected and Garboldisham are arranging a special luncheon and hog roast in their honour. Many Garboldisham cricketers, past and present, will also attend and any former players who the club has not managed to contact are also warmly invited. Next year will be Garboldishams 50th consecutive tour of Northampton where they have played against Podington and also Wolverton CC on every occasion.

How many other clubs can match or beat the history of touring that Podington and Garboldisham have?
